

INQUEST OPENED IN FOUR DEATHS IN LATEST HERRIN ILL., OUTBREAK

S. Glenn Young, "Stormy Petrel" of Williamson County and Three Others Killed Saturday Night—Troops in Charge.

Herrin, Illinois, Jan. 26.—While S. Glenn Young's body lay in state at the First Baptist Church today, Coroner George Bell formally opened his inquest into the deaths of the colorful clan leader and of Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, of Ed Forbes and of Omer Warren, slain in the renewal of the William county "war" here Saturday night.

Meantime the town of Herrin is under rule of the Illinois National Guard and people are quietly moving about the city and attending strictly to their own affairs.

A hundred versions of the shooting exist.

Assisted by States Attorney Arlie Boswell, the coroner's task is to determine how the fatal fight started, who fired the first shot and by whose hands the victims died.

Klansmen charge that Young was killed by Thomas, who shot him from behind. They say that the clan leader fell dying and with his last strength fired the bullet that cut down the deputy sheriff who was reputed to be the head of the Flaming Circle.

Anti-klansmen declare that Thomas was trapped in a grill room by Young and his cohorts. They say Young, Forbes and Warren were in the grill room when Thomas walked in alone.

Young immediately went for his gun, according to their version but Thomas beat him on the draw and killed him. The klansmen on the outside started shooting into the room according to Thomas' friends and killed Thomas and two of their own men, Forbes and Warren, as well.

Anti-klansmen today openly charged that the coroner's probe was a joke, that every juror was a klansman and that the inquest would result in a klans whitewash.

The real facts will become known when the regular grand jury meets February 4 at Marion, the anti-klans faction said.

Young's funeral has been set for Wednesday morning and, klansmen say it will be the grandest ever held in Illinois.

But Herrin—on the surface, is quiet. The residents are always good

ADMINISTRATION FACES BARRIERS IN ACHIEVING PROGRAM

Adjournment Draws Near
With Five Major Problems Still Unsolved

Washington, Jan. 26.—The fight against the elevation of Attorney General Harlan F. Stone to the U. S. Supreme Court, was renewed in the senate today behind closed doors.

Washington, Jan. 26.—With adjournment but five weeks away, the administration faces impassable barriers today in attempting to enact President Coolidge's administrative program before congress drops its official work for the long summer vacation.

Five major legislative measures remained on the administration's program, aside from the usual appropriation bills with all signs indicating they will be defeated or left in the stretch when congress quits March 4. They include the Isle of Pines treaty, the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill, the Moses Postal bill increasing postoffice salaries through higher postal rates, a farm relief bill to aid co-operative marketing and the president's own recommendation for American adherence to the world court.

The administration also faced serious difficulty in obtaining senatorial confirmation of the appointments of Harlan F. Stone to the supreme court and of Charles B. Warren as attorney general. Fights have been waged against both appointments the immediate attack being aimed at Stone because of the charges that he is "persecuting" Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, in trying to indict him in the District of Columbia. Friends of Wheeler have openly declared they will block Stone's confirmation until the Wheeler case is disposed of satisfactorily.

The Wheeler clique, which includes such independents as Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho and Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, today planned to force an investigation of Stone's activities toward Wheeler before the senate judiciary committee. While this would delay his confirmation for weeks, administration leaders were inclined to accept it in preference to an open fight on the senate floor with an ever-present threat of rejection.

The outlook was that congress will make little headway on subjects the administration favors and much noise where the president desires quiet.

KIANGSU TROOPS IN WILD RETREAT

Shanghai, Jan. 26.—Kiangsu troops are in wild retreat today following a two day battle on the outskirts of Wusheh. Five trainloads of Kiangsu troops have already arrived at the border settlement.

Chi Hsieh Yuan, formerly military chieftain of the ousted Chihli party and now the rebel chieftain fighting against the Anju central government, was trapped near Wusheh, when his soldiers commandeered all available trains and started a wild rush toward Shanghai.

CORONER WANTS REOPENING OF MURDER PROBE

Not Satisfied With First Finding In Dorothy Ellingson Inquest

San Francisco, Jan. 26.—Not satisfied with what was revealed a week ago Saturday at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Anna Ellingson, whose murder her 16 year old daughter, Dorothy, confessed, Coroner T. B. W. Leland declared today he may reopen the case.

This statement by the coroner following his appearance at the first congregational church here where he said the real facts in the murder had not been brought out, caused a sensation.

Coupled with the coroner's announcement today was his address to the coroner's jury in which he said: "Dorothy's confession may be repudiated and it may be that she is shielding someone in this case."

The real motive in the tragedy, Leland declared in his talk at the church, may never be known.

"The real secret of why Dorothy Ellingson killed her mother, if she did kill her, is locked in her heart," said Leland.

Dorothy was in a "weepy" mood again after spending her second Sunday in prison far from her haunts on "Jazz-land's" trail.

She was to be questioned again today by her attorney, Alexander Mooslin, in his efforts to strengthen his announced defense of mental illness as the explanation of the murder of her mother in a "red headed" rage.

With her father, Joseph Ellingson, heartbroken tailor, and her brother, Earl Mooslin, was to probe the "jazz girl's" childhood days, regarding her hopes, desires, disappointments, loves and dislikes in an effort to uncover a hint that may lead to determining cause of the matricide.

MAJOR PROJECTS FACE BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE ON THIS WEEK'S ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—Both houses of the Ohio legislature will swing again into action late today, with leaders determined to push to completion during the week some of the major projects before the two houses. The house will convene at 5 o'clock this afternoon with little scheduled for the brief session except introduction of bills. The senate will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Memorial services for the late Senator Thomas L. Gifford, Lucas county, will be held. The most important measure to come before the house during the week will be the vote Tuesday on the proposal that Ohio ratify the proposed federal child labor amendment. House leaders are determined the resolution must be disposed of without further delay. Defeat of the measure is forecast.

The senate tonight will begin the task of hurrying the enactment of the emergency financial relief bill, when the taxation committee will give a hearing on the measure. Legislative leaders and Governor Donahoe are in agreement on the measure and the governor is expected to sign it, as soon as it reaches him. Under the emergency clause, the bill will take effect immediately upon its passage.

Spokesmen for the Lorain district, swept last summer by a tornado, will appear before the senate and house finance committees at a joint hearing on the bills proposing appropriation of $300,000 from the state's general fund for rehabilitation of the wrecked territory. Wesley L. Grills, Lorain precinct, will probably be spokesman for the district.

Three important measures will be considered at house committee meetings Wednesday night. Most important will be the Brown two cent gas tax bill, on which a vote will be sought in the motor vehicles committee. The utilities committee is also scheduled to consider the Collister-Freeman bus law, to give cities regulation of bus lines operating wholly within their limits. The schools committee will give a hearing on the proposed act, making religious education mandatory in the public schools and requiring all children above the fourth grade to memorize the ten commandments.

Action is also expected in the senate during the week, giving indication as to action to come on Governor Donahoe's long term appointments. The most important at present up for consideration is the re-appointment of T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool as chairman of the state industrial commission.

The Rev. E. M. Tasman, rector of the Christ Episcopal Church of Springfield, gave a talk on the Bible at the vesper service at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Sunday night. The talk was broadcast from Station WRAV.

The need of Biblical literature for true culture was stressed by the Rev. Mr. Tasman. "We go to the Bible for spiritual truth," the speaker said, "and not for scientific facts. The idea prevalent at the age of the writer is reflected in its pages."

"In the Old Testament we find polygamy, revenge and deceit—not only permitted but given divine sanction. The steady growth of the idea of God is witnessed by the later books and particularly by the New Testament."

Nelsonville, Jan. 26.—All jail keepers in the Hocking Valley report many applications are received each night from vagrants for lodging. BUY PEACE WITH BAD WAR DEBTS

Commoner Would Scratch Off Money Due In Return for Disarmament

Nebraskan Gives Idea To Coolidge at Session On Saturday

Washington, Jan. 26.—The war debts of the world are poisonous ingredients which are being stirred up into a pottage of hate that will lead to another and far more terrible world war unless the United States assumes the moral leadership of the world and exchanges its "worthless debts for priceless peace"—that is the opinion of William Jennings Bryan.

At a time when the administration is bending every effort to collect wartime obligations, even to the extent of straining relations with some of the debtors, Mr. Bryan came forth today with an out and out plea for cancellation. He talked it over with President Coolidge on Saturday.

The commoner would make the price of this unparalleled generosity on the part of the United States world disarmament. America is to buy "priceless peace," with some eleven billion dollars worth of "bad debts."

"The war debts will never be paid," said Mr. Bryan. "Europe has no intention of paying them and continued efforts on our part to collect them are merely losing us more friends than we ever made in our large contribution toward the winning of the war. And even more important, by insisting upon their payment we are losing a wonderful opportunity to render a great service to the cause of peace. Maggot-like hates are now breeding in Europe that may easily lead to another war with the United States the righteous and innocent, but contributing cause."

The speech recently delivered in the French chamber of deputies by Deputy Martin represents the sentiment of the government and the people of France. They have argued themselves into the belief there is no moral basis for the debts and that we really owe them money and gratitude. One Belgian official has even gone so far as to figure out that the United States owes Europe over eighty five billion dollars.

"While Great Britain has promised to pay and gone through the necessary gestures there is widespread feeling in the British Isles that they really owe us nothing. On the contrary they feel that they stemmed the German hordes at a great sacrifice to themselves, protecting us until we were ready to enter the fray. While this is absurd, because we have a perfectly valid, legal and moral claim for the payment of our debts, we must recognize that it expresses universal public opinion."

"It is questionable whether Europe could pay its debts even if it wanted to pay. In the meantime the U. S. is being more and more caricatured as a shylock rich beyond the dreams of Europe, part of that wealth coming as a result of a war in which our suffering was comparatively light, demanding our pound of flesh."

"I believe the time has come when America should decide to trade this worthless debt for a priceless peace. World peace will be worth more than the $12,000,000,000 the allies owe us, even if it were collectable. If we were to announce our willingness to cancel the debts in return for world disarmament it would give the world peace. Even failure could not make the situation worse than it now is."

"We know the European attitude. The time is now ripe. If we delay until the worthlessness of the debt becomes apparent to everyone, they will laugh at us. Then we shall have neither money nor their friendship. We shall have lost our reputation for benevolent disinterestedness and our power to help the world secure a lasting priceless peace."

CREW RESCUED AS VESSEL BLOWN UP

Portland, Ore., Jan. 26.—Fourteen members of the crew of the gasoline schooner Speedway, which blew up in the Straits of San Juan de Fuca, near Seattle, have been rescued by the steamer Maunali, according to wireless reports received here by the Federal Commerce.

San Francisco, Jan. 26.—The Speedway, reported blown up on the Pacific coast off Seattle, is a Canadian "rum runner," and carried more than $1,000,000 worth of liquor, it was reported here today. The Speedway, built in New Foundland, in 1918, operated between Vancouver, B. C. and San Francisco.

FOUNDER OF GIANTS DIES IN POVERTY

New York, Jan. 6.—John B. Day, the man who, as president of the New York baseball club gave New York its first Giants—lies dead today in poverty stricken surroundings, where once fame and affluence were his.

Day lost his wealth in fighting for the existence of the old National league and the New York club in the fight against the outlaw brotherhood league in the early nineties.

In later years he became a cripple and managed to eke out an existence on a small annuity granted him by the New York Club and an occasional fee he was able to earn as "inspector of players and umpires," every time he attended a game in New York. It was often beyond his physical ability to earn the five dollars thus set aside against his appearance at games.

Some years ago he was stricken with paralysis and never recovered his health.

PROTEST CREATION OF DEFENSE FORCE

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 26.—Ziwar Pasha, premier of Egypt, today transmitted a note to Lord Allenby, English high commissioner in Egypt, protesting against the proposal to create a Sudanese defense force to replace the withdrawn English units. The note said that "the ties uniting Egypt and the Sudan cannot be broken."

Egyptian forces in the Sudan were forced to withdraw by the British as part of the reprisal because of the murder of Sir Lee Stack, commander of the British forces in Egypt.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO CALM OPIUM DISPUTE

Geneva, Jan. 26.—An attempt was made to pour oil on the troubled waters at the international opium conference today when Congressman Stephen G. Porter, chairman of the American delegation, addressed the mixed commission. France and Great Britain both agree to the necessity of suppressing opium within 15 years. Porter told the commission, "but the point of disagreement is when shall this period commence."

Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league of nations presided at the first meeting of the mixed commission this morning. Harut Zahle, president of the conference was elected president of the commission.

HE OBEYED IMPULSE

Blaine, Jan. 26.—Chester Binlinski, 15, is in the boys' industrial school at Lancaster today as a result of shying a book at a teacher's head. The book throwing marked the culmination of a series of actions by the lad which resulted in the school authorities filing charges against young Binlinski. Sentence to the reform school in juvenile court followed.

WILBERFORCE TEAM ANNEXES SIXTH WIN AT EXPENSE OF BALTIMORE TEAM SATURDAY

By L. J. WONES

Wilberforce University basketball team annexed its sixth win of the season Saturday afternoon at Wilberforce defeating the Baltimore Athenians in a sensational played game by a 31 to 20 score.

The visitors found the job of locating the net considerably difficult at all times, mainly because of the close guarding of the winners. They missed several easy shots and some of them were hard luck attempts. Their floorwork was good and was on a par with Wilberforce.

The winners played a consistent scoring game getting seven fielders in the first frame and eight in the last period. Mohr's lads had around sixty-five shots at the hoop and made sixteen baskets.

Captain Lewis topped the scoring for Wilberforce. The green and yellow leader registered seven fielders three of these being sensational long shots from the middle of the floor. Harding, at center, made a trio of baskets from the field and tossed one from the free throw line. Redden at the other forward position caged the pill three times. Harris played well at guard.

Keller, Brown and Butler sparked for the losers. The first named being high man for his team with seven points. Baskerville, diminutive forward for the Athenians, was watched so closely that he failed to hit the net. He handled the ball well but the defense that Mohr planned out for him was too good.

Wilberforce scored first after Harding tipped the ball off to Thompson who passed to Harding, who scored. Wilberforce then ran its total up to ten, thanks to baskets by Lewis, Redden and Harding. Harding then fouled Keller who made both free throws. Lewis caged a long one. Keller laid the ball in the net and tossed a foul several seconds later. Butler held Harding and he made good on the free throw the score being 13 to 5 at this time. Brown made two long shots from the side of the court. Harding looped one through from the side and Brown made a short as the half ended with Wilberforce leading by a 15 to 11 score.

Keller started things in the second session when he took a pass and dribbled in for a short one. The teams then played eight minutes before another score was made, this time it was the Easterners who tallied again when Butler got through Wilberforce's defense long enough to toss a short one which tied the score at fifteen all. Lewis broke the tie with a fielder. Lewis tried a long one which failed but got the ball off the banking board and followed it successfully. He scored another basket for his team a few moments later giving them a six point lead. Redden produced a long one. Butler got a short one after Keller missed an easy attempt. Lewis increased his team's lead when he got a pair of buckets. Butler got a foul and Harris caged a long one. Huff fouled Rhoades and he counted twice from the charity line. Keller tried a long one which missed the hoop and Ward took the ball off the banking board and dribbled through the entire team and scored a short one as the gun cracked ending the fracas.

YELLOW JACKETS OF CEDARVILLE WHIP RIO GRANDE COLLEGE

The Cedarville Yellow Jackets downed the strong Rio Grande College quintet 29 to 25 Friday night in a struggle that brought out the ability of the orange and blue players to a fine degree. The Rio Grande team had just suffered a defeat of two points by Dayton "U" on the previous night but seemed to be in top form for the game with Cedarville.

The Yellow Jackets started at top speed and ran up a ten point score before Rio touched the net. The red and white basketekers however finally connected with the basket for several points and the remainder of the game went on with alternate one point leads until the last few minutes when the Cedarville boys added several for good measure and the game ended.

"Dayton 'U'", which won from Rio Grande in a hard fought game Thursday night will tie up with the Cedarville bunch February 4 and again at the Fairgrounds, March 6.

CENTRAL WILL PLAY MORaine PARK FIVE ON DAYTON FLOOR

Central High School will tackle Moraine Park High School, Dayton, Wednesday afternoon at Dayton in a game which will probably revert into a match of athletic brains against athletic brawn.

Central has but an average size team this year, but is coached up to the highest mark of efficiency and skill on the basketball court has enabled the players to overcome any physical handicap.

Moraine has been having unusual success on the court this year, and much of this success is due to the heavy rangy men that represent the Dayton school.

Central showed that weight and height is not special advantage, in the game with the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity last Friday night and proved that this physical advantage may be turned by skilled players into a disadvantage by defeating the older and bigger opponents 40 to 30.

Rutan crept up to within five points of Captain Perrine, who is leading the team in scoring, in the last game, by scoring seven field goals while Perrine was counting six. Both flashy

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hair's have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. adv

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing Specialists Didn't Help

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrup cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Broncholine Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Broncholine Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Broncholine Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Sayre & Hemphill or any good dealer for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough. adv

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes the throat and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

 The Quoit Club bowling five jumped to second place in the league standing, but two full games behind the leading Arcade "5" last Friday evening by taking three easy games from the ninth place Rotary Club. Thearl White, leadoff man for the Quoit Club, bowled the highest single game of the evening when he rolled 209. A poor first game robbed him of a probable 600 score.

The Friday game was a match postponed from Tuesday the week preceding.

DR. GEORGE HUGH BIRNEY INSPIRES LARGE AUDIENCES IN OPENING REVIVAL SERMONS

The evangelistic campaign, uniting the Methodist churches of this city, began under most favorable auspices Sunday.

Three large audiences greeted Dr. George Hugh Birney, evangelist morning afternoon and evening. Dr. Birney spoke briefly to both Sunday schools at their morning sessions and enlisted the classes in the active work of the meetings.

Dr. Birney, before he became an evangelist, was the pastor of some of the leading churches of the Methodist denomination and has had a varied experience as pastor, lecturer and war worker.

He brings to his evangelistic work a wealth of experience and training unique among evangelists.

Dr. Birney's morning sermon was on the theme, "The World's Only Portrait of God." His text was from 2 Cor. 4:6, "The Glory of God is the Face of Jesus Christ." In graphic fashion he brought his audience face to face with the revelation of God in the face of his chosen son. He showed how impossible it is that nature can ever speak any definite word about God's character or moral position. It was necessary that this revelation should be made through personality.

"It is one thing," continued the evangelist, "to hear a voice across the mountains of revelation; it is another thing to hear that voice resolve itself into the form of a man; it is still another thing to have the form of a man emerge from the darkness and stand before us so that we can look upon his face. God has spoken with many voices, but in Christ Jesus He overcame every barrier and stands in our very presence!"

"The face is the window out of which the soul looks upon the world, while through that same window, the world looks in upon the very inner sanctuary of the soul. All that we are in desire and passion, in love or in hate, in purpose and ambition, we reveal in our faces. They are the screen upon which our souls stand revealed and character stands out in stark, complete outline."

"So in the face of Christ, we see the character of God. It shines through in revealing glory, bringing to our understanding the whole blessed picture of infinite love."

Dr. Birney spoke of the various outstanding pictures of the birth, life and death of Jesus, each bringing some new feature of God's love into vision, and ended with the picture of Calvary.

"Without the Calvary face of Jesus," he said, "we would never have known the redeeming measure of the love of God, for without the cross all else could have been meaningless and incomplete. But when we behold the thorn-crowned, blood-stained suffering face of Jesus, framed against the background of Calvary, we see the glory of God in the measureless love that stoops at no sacrifice to win men back to Himself."

"Standing before the cross, we realize that, in some terrible way, the Saviour, is bearing our own sins in our stead, and our hearts instinctively cry out for pardon, saying, 'O God, forgive—we did not know that thou didst care so much else we would not have broken thy heart with our sinning!'"

The afternoon meeting for mothers and daughters was well attended and the large audience listened with utter attention to the evangelist's portrayal of "The Chambers of Imagery," basing his message on the vision of Ezekiel, recorded in Ezekiel 8:12. At the close several hundred women and girls stood around the altar in prayer and consecration.

Dr. Birney told how the chambers of imagery are full of mental pictures of the things experienced through the senses of touch, taste, smell, hearing and seeing. "All the character making thoughts of our lives," he declared, "come from these mental images of experience. If they are pure then the temple is clean, if they are evil then the temple of life is corrupted and defiled."

"Even God cannot do anything with a soul until He is permitted to enter its chamber of imagery and substitute

the pictures of his own will for those of sin and worldliness. Nothing but the blood of Jesus can cleanse away the images of sin, and make our lives fit for the indwelling Spirit of Love. And every victory in sainthood lies in submitting our thoughts to the will of the Holy Spirit."

The evening audience crowded the auditorium of First Church, and there was manifested a depth of conviction not often seen so early in campaigns of this sort. At the close of the meeting practically the entire assemblage stood in response to the evangelist's challenge, pledging themselves to the campaign in prayer and service.

Again taking his text from Ezekiel Dr. Birney spoke on "The Trumpet and the Sword."

"There is no armistice," he said, "between Heaven and Hell. The Devil has never sheathed his sword and sin has never surrendered. The fight is on, and we are inevitably a part of it. We will conquer sin or sin will destroy us. There is only one sword that can fend the dripping sword of Satan, and that is the sword of the Spirit."

"Yet the average church of today would seem to believe that sin has ceased to slay and that the warfare between the powers of light and darkness is over. We see many sitting at ease in Zion even fraternizing with sin of the world, unconcerned and undisturbed. And all the while the swords of sin are slaying in their very midst, sometimes even in their own homes and families."

The evangelist illustrated the ravages of sin by analogy to his experiences on a fighting front in France. With startling vivid portrayal he drove home to the audience the necessity of fighting sin. "Talk about the war's casualty list," he exclaimed, "with its 10,000,000 dead. It becomes insignificant by comparison to the innumerable lives that have been smitten down by the sword of sin. No man's land is everywhere and the souls of young and old are pierced unto death—and who cares?"

"The trumpet is the word of testimony," said Dr. Birney, "a great, divine megaphone, to be heard around the world, proclaiming: 'Turn ye, turn ye, why will ye die? It is not the will of God that any man should perish, but that all should return unto Him and live!'"

It was a sermon filled with the spirit of aggressive evangelism, that stirred the audience with the desire to do something to help Christ save the world. Dr. Birney is a large man, whose well modulated voice carries his words without effort. Sunday night he declared that "so long as God shall give this body of mine strength and this heart of mine courage, I am going to fight sin! I both hate and fear sin for I have seen its vengeance. It makes no compromises and accepts nothing but absolute surrender and that means death! The only hope of the world is Jesus. The only shield is faith. The only sword is the Holy Spirit. The only courage is the love of God. Our armor is spiritual and the victory is sure!"

Monday night is set apart for officials and members, although persons not members of the church are invited. Dr. Birney's subject will be, "Folk Who Sinner in Church." Mr. Stillings, former Xenian, who used to sing in Trinity choir, has been engaged to direct the singing with a large chorus choir. He will be present Monday night.

Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 Dr. Birney begins a series of afternoon addresses upon the "Holy Spirit." All of these meetings are open to the public and all members of the churches are urged to hear these spiritual messages.

Tuesday night, to accommodate those who desire to attend the lecture at the High School Auditorium, the hour of the services will be moved up to 7 o'clock instead of 7:30. All ex-service men of three wars are invited to hear the address of Dr. Birney upon the subject, "Over the Top—No Man's Land."

Dr. V. F. Brown of Trinity Church and Dr. F. W. Stanton, of First Church are busy with the details of these meetings, and are well pleased with the audiences.

STORES VICTIMIZED BY CHANGE WORKER

At least two Xenia business establishments were made victims of the old "change" gag Saturday night by an unknown confidence man, who fleeced each place out of $10 and escaped.

The Famous Cheap Store and the Bake Rite Bakery were the two known victims, they reported at Police headquarters.

A young man is said to have walked into the Famous Cheap Store and made a twenty-five cent purchase from one of the clerks. He handed her a $20 bill in payment. Receiving a $10 bill, nine ones and some small change, he asked the clerk to give him ten one dollar bills for the tenner.

Becoming confused, the clerk gave the man the ten ones but forgot to receive the $10 bill from the man who walked away. The mistake was not discovered until later. The same trick was worked successfully at the Bake Rite Bakery the same evening.

Further attempts were made at the Fetzer Bros. Grocery and the Sayre and Hemphill Drug Store but neither was taken in.

13. King Beowulf
(Drawing: Beowulf King Costume)

After many years of fighting and hardship, it came that Beowulf was made king, and a most noble ruler was he, even mightier than his uncle, Hrothgar and Hygelac. His lands prospered; his herds and his treasures grew apace.

And it happened that a certain Beowulf and fled from his disman aroused the just wrath of King pleasure. In his flight this knave chanced across a treasure mound o'er which a dragon nominally guarded. At this time the dragon was away and the knave seized a wondrous golden cup from the treasure to take to his king and beg forgiveness.

This the knave did. When the dragon returned he saw the loss and determined to spread desolation for revenge. That night he soared over Beowulf's kingdom, breathing fire and destruction upon the country-side. In the morning there was great despair. And Beowulf set out to kill the dragon which terrorized his people, taking a company of thanes with him. (He meets the dragon tomorrow)

UNCLE SAM OVERCHARGES

For a long time after European currency had dropped to unheard of depths the United States postoffice department continued to sell money orders on foreign countries at the old rate of exchange. If a person went to a bank he might buy exchange for 200 francs, for instance, for $10. But if he confidently went to the postoffice for a French money order he would be sold only 50 francs for the same sum. Uncle Sam was thus put in the position of gypping his customers.

Finally enough red tape was unwound to get the department up to date, and after a prolonged delay it began to sell foreign money orders at the current rate of exchange and so no longer cheated the purchasers.

Now the department has announced that it is to return to the old practice in money orders for British currency. The department is charging $4.87 for a pound, whereas the pound is worth only $4.78. What a cry would go up if a bank should overcharge its customers that way!

But apparently effective, businesslike methods are not to be expected of Uncle Sam.—Kansas City Star.

BARS THE "SOB SISTERS"

The sob sister and her crying brother in California may be compared with the lonesome person who was all dressed up and had no place to go. They are all teared up and have no place to cry. That is Governor Richardson says they have no place for their lachrymose demonstrations in so far as he is concerned, and that should be sufficient. If they have tears they need not bother about shedding them in the presence of the executive, for it will do neither them nor the clients any good.

In reviewing his acts of executive clemency the governor declares he has not been influenced by the sobbing or crying of professional sentimentalists. He has endeavored to handle every case presented on its merits alone, thus placing the humblest prisoner without friends on a basis of equality with the one able to surround himself with a band of tearful pleaders.

The attitude of the governor is commendable. The sob sister and her wet-eyed brother have doubtless worked on the sympathies of the public and created false sentiment that has kept many crooks and criminals from receiving their just punishment. Justice can handle her own affairs without their interference, and it is well that the governor of California should let them know it.—San Francisco Chronicle.

ECLIPSE

The phenomenon of the eclipse of the Sun by the Moon, was not near so important to us as the fact that scientists, recording data on the event, timed the eclipse accurately to show it was several seconds late.

With the Sun and Moon both occupying orbits in the vast spaces, the laws of Nature account for the fact that on occasion one of the heavenly bodies may find itself between the Earth and the other.

The fact that science not only predicted the coming eclipse, but timed it accurately for the benefit of the millions of watchers over the country and then were disappointed because the shadow did not travel quite as fast as expected, is an interesting insight into the accomplishments of astronomy.

Men versed in astral laws were able to tell to the minute what time the eclipse would be visible in each part of the country and then were disappointed because their computation varied by a few seconds.

The information they obtained during their observations, is expected to be highly important from a scientific standpoint.

JUST FOLKS

THE FATHER OF THE MAN

I sat me down for seeing things exactly as they are,
For questioning and wondering the goals which lie afar,
When something whispered low to me

"So far as you're concerned
You've reached your highest peak of life
and have your fortune earned;

Your habits now are fixed and fast,
For you are forty-three,
The sort of man you are today is all you'll ever be!"

"Have I no chance for better things?"
I questioned him who spoke
"If this is all I'll ever be, then life is but a joke."

"You've had your fun and won your game," the whispered voice replied.

"And but one chance is left to you—
that youngster at your side!
'Tis he to be a better man, a braver man than you."

Your future now is in his hands and all that he shall do.

"You're old and settled in your ways,
but he is young and fair,
And you must teach him what is good
and what he must beware;

Your life will very little change in twenty years or more,
But he will change into a man. So on I said before,
In him your future glory lies. Be careful what you do,
Your son must be in many ways a better man than you."

one is forty-three
He's just about the sort of man that he will ever be;
And I shall stay the way I am, my
habits fixed and fast,
But, oh, that little lad of mine may come to fame at last!"

"That's it," the whispering voice replied, "so do the best you can Man's greatest glory is to be the father of a man!"

This morning, Greene Countians had some royal sport that set their blood tingling. A fox chase.

The Greene County Republican Central Committee held a meeting Thursday afternoon and passed a resolution fixing the county Republican primary election for April 3.

The severe snow storms in the East, during the past couple of days, have been playing havoc with the passenger traffic in this section.

Considerable excitement was caused at the Pennsylvania depot Thursday morning by two locomotives coming together on the main track just at the entrance to the waiting room.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made stronger; your face pink with the old sweet-heart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

MOVE

Movement is one of the greatest laws of Nature. Decay is the result of lack of movement.

We get saturated with irritations by staying too long in the same place or looking at the same things, or thinking through beaten grooves.

The business grows that moves from cramped and inefficient quarters.

I remember the story of "The Old Gray Rat" which I read in one of my first school readers. The deserted house became unsafe. Even the rats came to feel this. So after a conference among them they decided to move. But this one old, gray fellow hesitated and couldn't make up his mind. He stayed. One day a storm came. Wind whizzed through the cracks of the old house and roared the timbers. The house fell and furnished a tomb for the old gray rat.

There is freshness and inspiration in movement. Take a trip to new places, use your eyes, drop your worries as you move about and your very soul will take on color.

Moving stimulates interest. And interest is what gives zest and character to life.

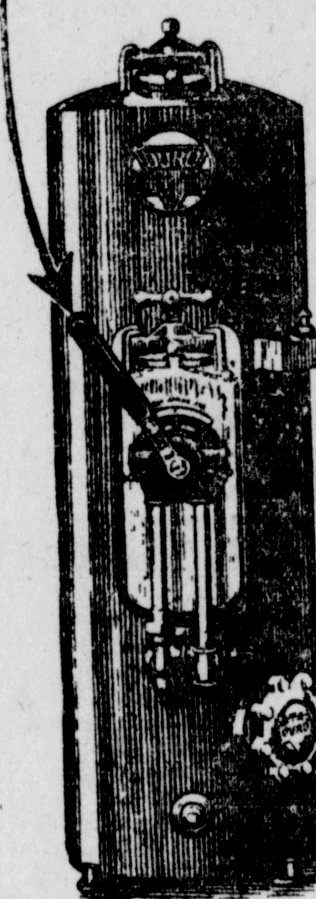

Make it a point to move into larger space! From a small town to a bigger town if you feel equal to it. But don't wait too long for that "feel". Usually we attempt much of our work in the dark. But as we courageously walk ahead we come into the light.

The movement of the mind is the most marvelous of all movements. The thinker is always the great man. And inasmuch as thought moves in methodical paths if you map them out, just consider how much it means to increase those paths.

Every day we may blaze new tracks of thought through our brain. And the more we use those paths the intelligent we become.

Keep on the move. But always move to some purpose.

The New Single Control DURO Water Softener

THERE has long been a demand for a SIMPLIFIED Water Softener.

Duro has supplied it now.

It has only one operating lever. No more fussing around with a complicated system of valves and valve manifolds.

There are only three positions to the lever, "soften," "off," and "regenerate" —all plainly marked.

It is supplied for either internal or external salting —with "yard stick high" salt pot.

It is rust-proofed, with two coats of special baked porso-enamel, inside and outside.

Because the water filters upward, packing and "channelling" of mineral are eliminated.

Backed by Duro's written guarantee of satisfaction.

This remarkable new Water Softener is on display at leading plumbers.

AMERICA AT DANGER FROM THREE ARMIES. SAYS REV. TILFORD

"America is threatened by three armies," the Rev. Wm. H. Telford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, told his congregation Sunday in a special sermon delivered on the day the church celebrated the first anniversary of its drive for funds to remodel the edifice and also on the day Miss Stella Bishop organist, gave her farewell program.

The sermon was based on a moral code for children, taken from Colliers Weekly of January 17, and compiled from information furnished by leaders of all creeds.

"These three armies," said the minister, "are—Five and one half million illiterates above nine years of age; fifty million people in the United States, who are in no church, Roman Catholic, Jewish or Protestant; and twenty-seven million Protestant children under 25 who are not in any Sunday School and one million, fifty thousand, eight hundred and eighty of this last group are in Ohio.

"These three armies are helped by three—forces first, propaganda from the outside, which seeks to destroy the home church and school. The second is lack of knowledge of the type of citizenship which can stabilize the democracy. Third, Spiritual Illiteracy which becomes the seed plot for immorality, crime, social unrest and anarchy. It is out of the company of spiritual illiterates that all of our delinquency among youth comes. We have been riding on the crest of the wave of moral stability which came from the stern days of our colonial and pioneering ancestry. It is distressing—the falling down in small matters which is noticed in the outcroppings of terrible crimes.

"What is the present state of morality? What percentage of folks in Xenia deal honestly and will return a nickel over change to the merchant? What percentage of young people commit our crime today—75 per cent. under 25 years. These boys and girls who get newspaper publicity of crime come out of the ordinary homes such as in Xenia, where the fundamental teachings of morality are neglected. Who is to blame? Some say the schools. We ought to stop blaming everything on the teacher. Some say the church. If the church is not doing everything it should for the children for the time it has with them—about twenty minutes a week—then blame the church. You can not teach morality in twenty minutes to a squirming class of boys. Some blame the home and the parents. The grand jurors of Goshen, Ind., and Toledo and Judge Killets of Toledo did.

Do not blame any body in particular. Blame the community. Some one has said 'It is the home, the church, the school, the government, the community as an entity, all delinquent—controlled—they are the real delinquents. They condition life for the child. They control his attitudes. They give him his thought material. They nourish or check growth. They top or repress spiritual resources. They make or break life. There is not one boy or girl goes wrong in Xenia, but that the entire community should shoulder some of the blame. Do not blame all the parents all the time. So long as there is one unsaved person in Xenia the good home is not safe. For just last week we heard of a man who had been peddling obscene literature throughout the town to children. There is nothing too severe for any one, who will come into your home and insidiously put therein those things which will undermine the good training of the children. Such a moral pervert should be put away where he would harm no one. Moral status is bad.

"Moral Education is the solution. Schools should put more time in on moral education. W. E. Cox late of this city, often said—the first principle and paramount purpose of education is to develop character. We agree with Prof. Cox. It ought to be English plus character that a teacher promulgates. No! It should be character through English. Moral education, yes—but that is the business of the church and preachers. Yes but who has the time of the child? School some—but the home the most."

The Rev. Mr. Telford took up the matter of a week day instruction in religion and morals and finally took up the Moral Code developed by Colliers Weekly recently.

MANY INEQUALITIES IN VALUATIONS IN COUNTY SAYS AUDITOR

Findings regarding real estate valuations in Greene County have been submitted to the County Commissioners by County Auditor R. O. Wead and a hearing of the findings set for February 4th.

An appraisal of property in Greene County has not been made since 1910, according to Auditor Wead, but it is customary by law to submit reports on the situation every year.

Three courses of action are left to the Board of County Commissioners. The findings may either be acted upon, modified or set aside. In the latter case, no appraisal of property is made, unless other action is taken. Contents of the report of findings in Greene County are as follows: "The assessed valuation on real property in the rural districts, when taken as a total, is not far below its true value in money. However, there are many inequalities existing in valuations within all of the taxing districts in the county.

"The assessed valuation on the real property within the municipalities of the county is not its true value in money.

"In considering the above report, I would respectfully call your attention to the likelihood of the enactment of new tax laws, or the modification of those now on the statute books, by the general assembly which is now in session."

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

FIGHTING MONEY

"A fighting dollar" is usually a poor investment dollar.

One of the big weeks in the oil business was financed largely on an appeal for fighting money. The company was going to lick Standard Oil. Promoters posed as champions of the "down-trodden" masses and the "down-trodden" gave up hundreds of thousands of dollars. The company failed and lost a vast sum for the "down-trodden."

Mixing fighting money and investing, except in co-operation with your government in time of war, is one of the surest ways to incur loss. There are only four essentials in a sound investment and they do not include fighting. They are Safety, Honesty, Rate and Regularity of interest Payments, and Marketability of the security. Successful, experienced, old investors are still buying firm stock to put as legacies for their children, while that champion company of the "down-trodden" lies buried in the losses it inflicted on thousands of poor men and women.

MAGNATE IS DEAD

London, Jan. 26-Lord Claude Hamilton, one of the world's best known railway experts, is dead at the age of 82. He remained actively engaged in railway work until he was 79 years old.

THE WORST IS YET TO COME

It is not a question of oustripping one's friends. Rather it is a question of the more clothes the more modish. Adelaide is showing Polly her new dress of crepe silk with a collar that winds smoothly about the neck and falls in a full ripple of jabot pleats down one shoulder.

Polly's dress has a jabot too. The dress is of crepe back satin, the jabot of georgette and it extends from the very top to the very bottom of Polly's dainty little frock. And this is a very popular way of wearing the season's jabot frill.

Aunt Sophia finds the jabot most becoming. She chooses a sheer lacy one for a gown otherwise entirely unadorned. Mizzi admires it, she has admired those which Adelaide and Polly wear and she determines that not another day shall pass before she has one, too.

And not another day did pass, because this is one of the things that Mizzi can be very firm about. "On ne pass pas" is her motto. She admires herself, and we admire her, too, in her velvet gown with its high collar and frill of silver lace fringed.

COMPENSATION OF SOLDIERS IS NOT ASSIGNABLE, SAID

A warning to ex-service men against negotiating loans and giving their national adjusted compensation certificates as collateral was issued Saturday from the American Legion headquarters in Columbus.

State Headquarters has been the recipient of numerous inquiries of American Legion ex-service men who have received their government certificates as to where they can secure immediate loans on their compensation papers.

Provisions of the Adjusted Compensation act strictly declare that this practice is not authorized. The act reads: "No right to payment under the provisions of this title shall be assignable or serve as security for any loan. Any assignment or loan made in violation of the provisions of this section shall be held void. The director shall not make any payments under this title to any person other than the dependent or such representative of the dependent as the director shall by regulation prescribe."

Authorization is granted to banks and trust companies incorporated, only after the expiration of two years after the date of the certificate, to loan a veteran upon his promissory note, made secure by his adjusted compensation certificate, any amount not to exceed 90 per cent of the service value of the certificate on the final day of the certificate year.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Husband Tamer by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with

GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier to whom her husband has introduced her, who falls in love with her, and whom she cannot ignore because of the help which he can give her sister's husband.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLIV—A CHANCE TO HELP

PATRICIA'S first impulse when she reached New York was to take a taxi up to her own apartment, fling herself into Andrew's arms, and tell him how wrong

her husband!

So she went to a quiet little hotel on Park Avenue, an ultra-conservative residence of which Linda Boyce had once remarked that no one but blackmailers and divorcees could afford to live there. Her heart was heavy, but she managed a brave show of gaiety, and when she met Linda a few days later in the elevator of a smart little dress shop they both patronized, she managed to appear glad to see her.

"Patricia Cleve," she exclaimed in surprise. "Where have you dropped from? Let's call this shopping orgy to a halt right this minute and go over to the Ritz where we can talk. I've a thousand and one things to ask you."

But adroit as her questioning was, she learned less from Patricia than that wily person learned from her. Patricia, torn between a desire to confide everything to her and trust to luck that she would go back and tell Andrew and a longing to remain as aloof as possible from everyone connected with the old life that she was trying to forget, managed to be cordial but vague.

"I'll never forget Andrew on the boat going over to England," Linda told her carelessly. "He was simply out of his mind at the prospect of landing a client over there whose business would end all of your worries. He thought you could get a house out in the country somewhere and—"

"That wasn't the idea I got at all," Linda assured her. "He was talking of getting you away from all that sort of thing—giving you the sort of home you'd always wanted."

Dick and I came right back, so I didn't see Andrew again until a few days ago, and when I asked him if you were still out at your sister's he hardly answered me. He was so gruff I decided that you had left him. And then Dick told me you had. But where are you, and what are you going to do?"

"I don't know," Patricia answered simply. "I'm waiting to hear from Andy. I'll not go back to being a husband tamer, though, I can assure you of that. I have some other plans I'll tell you about later."

It was the fashion of their crowd to talk of the most serious things lightly, and Pat found herself slipping into it easily; but later, when she returned to her hotel and looked for a note from Andy in response to hers begging him to come and talk everything over with her, she found only a curt letter telling her to see his lawyers. "I cannot see any advantage in our discussing what has happened as you suggest."

Patricia met Linda a few days later.

It seems all too plain to me. My lawyers will make everything easy for you; more than that you cannot ask."

Why was he so unrelenting, so hard? Her thoughts were all of him as she idly tore open another letter in her hand. It was from Clayton Gillespie and outlined the first work that he wanted her to do. She glanced quickly over it glad of something to take her mind from brooding over Andrew and the cruel misunderstanding that was separating them.

There were meetings of this and meetings of that—there seemed to be no end of welfare organizations in the world that Clayton Gillespie was interested in. How her old crowd would laugh at the thought of her being engaged in such work! She could almost hear Linda Boyce explaining that a lady philanthropist was another word for a frump and a social failure.

But as she studied his letter she became more and more interested in it. Here were vital things for her to do. At last she might be of some use in the world beside being the entertainment division of her husband's business.

WEAK FOLK NOW FAIRLY TINGLE WITH VITALITY

Rundown Folk Feel Years Younger; New Feeding Process That Builds Rich Blood

"Blessing in disguise," is what physicians are calling the newly discovered condition among our school children, 40% of whom it was shown suffer from under-nourishment. For out of this evil has come a great good.

Cod liver oil, always highly regarded by medical men, has proved its worth again. Used in a new, easy-to-take form called CocoCod, it is not only assisting youngsters back to normal health, but causing weak men and women to fairly tingle with vitality and the joy of living.

It is truly amazing, even in old folk, how this pure Norwegian cod liver oil quickens the eliminative organs, feeds worn nerves and enriches the blood. But CocoCod does not stop there. It supplies to the system the elements which our food lacks, creating new energy and nerve force that causes rundown men and women to look, feel and act years younger.

Underfed nerves and weak blood simply won't permit you to enjoy life as you should; but, thanks to CocoCod, no one need permit this condition to continue. Teachers, doctors and other thinking people are recommending this new, easy-to-take form of cod liver oil. Mothers cod liver oil find no trouble feeding them CocoCod with its rich cocoa taste.

Local druggists, as well as doctors and teachers, have been fully informed concerning its value. However, it is well to be sure you're getting the genuine CocoCod, the new easy-to-take cod liver oil preparation.—Adv.

S. Glenn Young, "Stormy Petrel" of Williamson County and Three Others Killed Saturday Night—Troops In Charge.

Herrin, Illinois, Jan. 26.—While S. Glenn Young's body lay in state at the First Baptist Church today, Coroner George Bell formally opened his inquest into the deaths of the colorful clan leader and of Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, of Ed Forbes and of Omer Warren, slain in the renewal of the William county "war" here Saturday night.

Meantime the town of Herrin is under rule of the Illinois National Guard and people are quietly moving about the city and attending strictly to their own affairs.

A hundred versions of the shooting exist.

Assisted by States Attorney Arlie Boswell, the coroner's task is to determine how the fatal fight started, who fired the first shot and by whose hands the victims died.

Klansmen charge that Young was killed by Thomas, who shot him from behind. They say that the clan leader fell dying and with his last strength fired the bullet that cut down the deputy sheriff who was reputed to be the head of the flaming circle.

Anti-klanmen declare that Thomas was trapped in a grill room by Young and his cohorts. They say Young, Forbes and Warren were in the grill room when Thomas walked in alone.

Young immediately went for his gun, according to their version but Thomas beat him on the draw and killed him. The klansmen on the outside started shooting into the room according to Thomas' friends and killed Thomas and two of their own men, Forbes and Warren, as well.

Anti-klanmen today openly charged that the coroner's probe was a joke, that every juror was a klansman and that the inquest would result in a klansman whitewashing.

The real facts will become known when the regular grand jury meets February 4 at Marion, the anti-klan faction said.

Young's funeral has been set for Wednesday morning and, klansmen say it will be the grandest ever held in Illinois.

But Herrin—on the surface, is quiet. The residents are always good

ADMINISTRATION FACES BARRIERS IN ACHIEVING PROGRAM

Adjournment Draws Near
With Five Major Problems Still Unsolved

Washington, Jan. 26.—The fight against the elevation of Attorney General Harlan F. Stone to the U. S. Supreme Court, was renewed in the senate today behind closed doors.

Washington, Jan. 26.—With adjournment but five weeks away, the administration faced impassable barriers to day in attempting to enact President Coolidge's administrative program before congress drops its official worries for the long summer vacation.

Five major legislative measures remained on the administration's program, aside from the usual appropriation bills with all signs indicating they will be defeated or left in the stretch when congress quits March 4.

They include the Isle of Pines treaty, the Underwood Muscle Shoals bill, the Moses Postal bill increasing postoffice salaries through higher postal rates, a farm relief bill to aid co-operative marketing, and the president's own recommendation for American adherence to the world court.

The administration also faced serious difficulty in obtaining senatorial confirmation of the appointments of Harlan F. Stone to the supreme court and of Charles B. Warren as attorney general. Fights have been waged against both appointments the immediate attack being aimed at Stone because of the charges that he is "persecuting" Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, in trying to indict him in the District of Columbia. Friends of Wheeler have openly declared they will block Stone's confirmation until the Wheeler case is disposed of satisfactorily.

The Wheeler clique, which includes such independents as Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho and Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, today planned to force an investigation of Stone's activities toward Wheeler before the senate judiciary committee. While this would delay his confirmation for weeks, administration leaders were inclined to accept it in preference to an open fight on the senate floor with an ever-present threat of rejection.

The outlook was that congress will make little headway on subjects the administration favors and much noise where the president desires quiet.

GERMANY FORBIDDEN TO MANUFACTURE WAR-LIKE MATERIAL

London, Jan. 26.—Germany has been forbidden to manufacture warlike material even for foreign nations, it was announced today to the foreign office.

The ambassador's council has sent a note to Germany, the foreign office said, notifying it that the proposed contract of Krupp's with the Argentine government to make boilers for the new Argentine warships would be considered a breach of the Versailles treaty.

The council holds, it was stated, that Germany is not permitted to make any "warlike material" and that the proposed boilers would come under this heading.

CORONER WANTS REOPENING OF MURDER PROBE

Not Satisfied With First Finding In Dorothy Ellingson Inquest

San Francisco, Jan. 26.—Not satisfied with what was revealed a week ago Saturday at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Anna Ellingson, whose murder her 16 year old daughter, Dorothy, confessed, Coroner T. B. W. Leland declared today he may re-open the case.

This statement by the coroner following his appearance at the first congregational church here where he said the real facts in the murder had not been brought out, caused a sensation.

Coupled with the coroner's announcement today was his address to the coroner's jury in which he said: "Dorothy's confession may be repudiated and it may be that she is shielding someone in this case."

The real motive in the tragedy, Leland declared in his talk at the church, may never be known.

"The real secret of why Dorothy Ellingson killed her mother, if she did kill her, is locked in her heart," said Leland.

Dorothy was in a "weepy" mood again after spending her second Sunday in prison far from her haunts on "Jazzland's trail."

She was to be questioned again today by her attorney, Alexander Mooslin, in his efforts to strengthen his announced defense of mental illness as the explanation of the murder of her mother in a "red headed" rage.

With her father, Joseph Ellingson, heartbroken, was to probe the "jazz girls" childhood days, regarding her hopes, desires, disappointments, loves and dislikes in an effort to uncover a hint that may lead to determining cause of the matricide.

MAJOR PROJECTS FACE BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE ON THIS WEEK'S ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—Both houses of the Ohio legislature will swing again into action late today, with leaders determined to push to completion during the week some of the major projects before the two houses.

The house will convene at 5 o'clock this afternoon with little scheduled for the brief session except introduction of bills. The senate will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Memorial services for the late Senator Thomas L. Gifford, Lucas county, will be held. The most important measure to come before the house during the week will be the vote Tuesday on a proposal that Ohio ratify the proposed federal child labor amendment. House leaders are determined the resolution must be disposed of without further delay. Defeat of the measure is forecast.

The senate tonight will begin the task of hurrying the enactment of the emergency financial relief bill, when the taxation committee will give a hearing on the measure. Legislative leaders and Governor Donahy are in agreement on the measure and the governor is expected to sign it, as soon as it reaches him. Under the emergency clause, the bill will take effect immediately upon its passage.

Spokesmen for the Lorain district, swept last summer by a tornado, will appear before the senate and house finance committees at a joint hearing on the bills proposing appropriation of $300,000 from the state's general fund for rehabilitation of the wrecked territory. Wesley L. Grills, Lorain prosecutor, will probably be spokesman for the district.

Three important measures will be considered at house committee meetings Wednesday night. Most important will be the Brown two cent gas tax bill, on which a vote will be sought in the motor vehicles committee. The utilities committee is also scheduled to consider the Collier home rule amendment to the Collier-Freeman bus law, to give cities regulation of bus lines operating wholly within their limits. The schools committee will give a hearing on the proposed act, making religious education mandatory in the public schools and requiring all children above the fourth grade to memorize the ten commandments.

Action is also expected in the senate during the week, giving indication as to action to come on Governor Donahy's long term appointments. The most important at present up for consideration is the re-appointment of T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool as chairman of the state industrial commission.

The need of Biblical literature for true culture was stressed by the Rev. Mr. Tasman.

"We go to the Bible for spiritual truth," the speaker said, "and not for scientific facts. The idea prevalent at the age of the writer is reflected in its pages."

"In the Old Testament we find polygamy, revenge and deceit—not only permitted but given divine sanction. The steady growth of the idea of God is witnessed by the later books and particularly by the New Testament."

FOUNDER OF GIANTS DIES IN POVERTY

New York, Jan. 6.—John B. Day, the man who, as president of the New York baseball club gave New York its first Giants—lies dead today in poverty stricken surroundings, where once fame and affluence were his.

Day lost his wealth in fighting for the existence of the old National league and the New York club in the fight against the outlaw brotherhood league in the early nineties.

In later years he became a cripple and managed to eke out an existence on a small annuity granted him by the New York Club and an occasional fee he was able to earn as "inspector of players and umpires," every time he attended a game in New York. It was often beyond his physical ability to earn the five dollars thus set aside against his appearance at games.

Some years ago he was stricken with paralysis and never recovered his health.

SUGGESTS U. S. BUY PEACE WITH BAD WAR DEBTS

Commoner Would Scratch Off Money Due In Return for Disarmament

Nebraskan Gives Idea To Coolidge at Session On Saturday

Washington, Jan. 26.—The war debts of the world are poisonous ingredients which are being stirred up into a pottage of hate that will lead to another and far more terrible world war unless the United States assumes the moral leadership of the world and exchanges its "worthless debts for priceless peace"—that is the opinion of William Jennings Bryan.

At a time when the administration is bending every effort to collect wartime obligations, even to the extent of straining relations with some of the debtors, Mr. Bryan came forth today with an out and out plea for cancellation. He talked it over with President Coolidge on Saturday.

The commoner would make the price of this unparalleled generosity on the part of the United States world disarmament. America is to buy "priceless peace," with some eleven billion dollars worth of "bad debts."

"The war debts will never be paid," said Mr. Bryan. "Europe has no intention of paying them and continued efforts on our part to collect them are merely losing us more friends than we ever made in our large contribution toward the winning of the war. And even more important, by insisting upon their payment we are losing a wonderful opportunity to render a great service to the cause of peace."

Maggot-like hates are now breeding in Europe that may easily lead to another war with the United States the righteous and innocent, but contributing cause.

The speech recently delivered in the French chamber of deputies by Deputy Martin represents the sentiment of the government and the people of France. They have argued themselves into the belief there is no moral basis for the debts and that we really owe them money and gratitude. One Belgian official has even gone so far as to figure out that the United States owes Europe over eighty five billion dollars.

"While Great Britain has promised to pay and gone through the necessary gestures there is widespread feeling in the British Isles that they really owe us nothing. On the contrary they feel that they stemmed the German hordes at a great sacrifice to themselves, protecting us until we were ready to enter the fray. While this is absurd, because we have a perfectly valid, legal and moral claim for the payment of our debts, we must recognize that it expresses universal public opinion."

"It is questionable whether Europe could pay its debts even if it wanted to pay. In the meantime the U. S. is being more and more caricatured as a shylock rich beyond the dreams of Europe, part of that wealth coming as a result of a war in which our suffering was comparatively light, demanding our pound of flesh."

"I believe the time has come when America should decide to trade this worthless debt for a priceless peace. World peace will be worth more than the $12,000,000,000 the allies owe us, even if it is not collectable. If we were to announce our willingness to cancel the debt in return for the world disarmament it would give the world peace. Even failure could not make the situation worse than it now is."

WILBERFORCE TEAM ANNEXES SIXTH WIN AT EXPENSE OF BALTIMORE TEAM SATURDAY

By L. J. WONES

Wilberforce University basketball team annexed its sixth win of the season Saturday afternoon at Wilberforce defeating the Baltimore Athenians in a sensational played game by a 21 to 20 score.

The visitors found the job of locating the net considerably difficult at all times, mainly because of the close guarding of the winners. They missed several easy shots and some of them were hard luck attempts. Their floorwork was good and was on a par with Wilberforce.

The winners played a consistent scoring game getting seven fielders in the first frame and eight in the last period. Mohr's lads had around sixty-five shots at the hoop and made sixteen baskets.

Captain Lewis topped the scoring for Wilberforce. The green and yellow leader registered seven fielders three of these being sensational long shots from the middle of the floor. Harding, at center, made a trio of baskets from the field and tossed one from the free throw line. Redden at the other forward position caged the pill three times. Harris played well at guard. Keller, Brown and Butler sparkled for the losers. The first named being high man for his team with seven points. Baskerville, diminutive forward for the Athenians, was watched so closely that he failed to hit the net. He handled the ball well but the defense that Mohr planned out for him was too good.

Wilberforce scored first after Harding tipped the ball off to Thompson who passed to Harding, who scored. Wilberforce then ran its total up to ten, thanks to baskets by Lewis, Redden and Harding. Harding then fouled Keller who made both free throws. Lewis caged a long one. Keller laid the ball in the net and tossed a foul several seconds later. Butler held Harding and he made good on the free throw the score being 13 to 5 at this time. Brown made two long shots from the side of the court. Harding looped one through from the side and Brown made a short as the half ended with Wilberforce leading by a 15 to 11 score.

Keller started things in the second session when he took a pass and dribbled in for a short one. The teams then played eight minutes before another score was made, this time it was the Easterners who tallied again when Butler got through Wilberforce's defense long enough to toss a short one which tied the score at fifteen all. Lewis broke the tie with a fielder. Lewis tried a long one which failed but got the ball off the banking board and followed it successfully. He scored another basket for his team a few moments later giving them a six point lead. Redden produced a long one. Butler got a short one after Keller missed an easy attempt. Lewis increased his team's lead when he got a pair of buckets. Butler got a foul and Harris caged a long one. Huff fouled Rhoades and he counted twice from the charity line. Keller tried a long one which missed the hoop and Ward took the ball off the banking board and dribbled through the entire team and scored a short one as the gun cracked ending the fracas.

EAST HIGH QUINTET HAS WALKAWAY WITH COLUMBUS HI Y FIVE

East High School basketball team took its third straight victory of the season Friday night when it defeated the Columbus Hi Y team by a 27 to 5 score.

The game was rather one-sided and Coach Lewis used four subs besides the regulars in the game trying to give the Columbus bunch some kind of a chance. As a rule the Hi Y team turned out at the Capitol is good but this year is the exception to the rule or else East High has a better club than last season.

East was first to score when D. Ware dropped one in from the field. Corbett then made a foul while Porter looped in a long one giving the locals a five point lead. Ware, Porter and Corbett each bagged another fielder during the first quarter. Field Goals by Pinchman and Watson and a foul by the former were the only points obtained in the opening stanza by the visitors. In the second period East scored six points while they held their opponents to nothing. The score being 17 to 5 at the half.

The second half was a repetition of the first with East's offense going good netting them five field goals while their defensive work was so tight that Columbus obtained but one score made from the field by Peirson.

The entire East High team played well. The work of D. Ware, Corbett and Porter stood out.

Next Friday at the East High gym Coach Lewis will pit his cohorts against a real five when they meet the Hi Y five of Indianapolis, Indiana.

YELLOW JACKETS OF CEDARVILLE WHIP RIO GRANDE COLLEGE

The Cedarville Yellow Jackets downed the strong Rio Grande College quintet 29 to 25 Friday night in a struggle that brought out the ability of the orange and blue players to a fine degree. The Rio Grande team had just suffered a defeat of two points by Dayton "U" on the previous night but seemed to be in top form for the game with Cedarville.

The Yellow Jackets started at top speed and ran up a ten point score before Rio touched the net. The red and white basketweavers however finally connected with the basket for several points and the remainder of the game went on with alternate one point leads until the last few minutes when the Cedarville boys added several for good measure and the game ended.

"Dayton "U", which won from Rio Grande in a hard fought game Thursday night will tie up with the Cedarville bunch February 4 and again at the Fairgrounds, March 6.

CENTRAL WILL PLAY MORaine PARK FIVE ON DAYTON FLOOR

Central High School will tackle Moraine Park High School, Dayton, Wednesday afternoon at Dayton in a game which will probably result into a match of athletic brains against athletic brawn.

Central has but an average size team this year, but is coached up to the highest mark of efficiency and skill on the basketball court has enabled the players to overcome any physical handicap.

Moraine has been having unusual success on the court this year, and much of this success is due to the heavy ranky men that represent the Dayton school.

Central showed that weight and height is not special advantage, in the game with the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity last Friday night and proving that this physical advantage may be turned by skilled players into a disadvantage by defeating the older and bigger opponents 40 to 30.

Rutan crept up to within five points of Captain Perrine, who is leading the team in scoring, in the last game, by scoring seven field goals while Perrine was counting six. Both flashy

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. adv

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrup cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cough that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Broncholine Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Broncholine Emulsion; it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Broncholine Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Sayre & Hemphill or any good dealer for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough. adv

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

DR. GEORGE HUGH BIRNEY INSPIRES LARGE AUDIENCES IN OPENING REVIVAL SERMONS

The evangelistic campaign, uniting the Methodist churches of this city, began under most favorable auspices Sunday.

Three large audiences greeted Dr. George Hugh Birney, evangelist morning afternoon and evening. Dr. Birney spoke briefly to both Sunday schools at their morning sessions and enlisted the classes in the active work of the meetings.

Dr. Birney, before he became an evangelist, was the pastor of some of the leading churches of the Methodist denomination and has had a varied experience as pastor, lecturer and war worker.

He brings to his evangelistic work a wealth of experience and training unique among evangelists.

Dr. Birney's morning sermon was on the theme, "The World's Only Portrait of God." His text was from 2 Cor. 4:6, "The Glory of God is the Face of Jesus Christ." In graphic fashion he brought his audience face to face with the revelation of God in the face of his chosen son. He showed how impossible it is that nature can ever speak any definite word about God's character or moral power. It was necessary that this revelation should be made through personality.

"It is one thing," continued the evangelist, "to hear a voice across the mountains of revelation; it is another thing to hear that voice resolve itself into the form of a man; it is still another thing to have the form of a man emerge from the darkness and stand before us so that we can look upon his face. God has spoken with many voices, but in Christ Jesus He overcame every barrier and stands in our very presence."

"The face is the window out of which the soul looks upon the world, while through that same window, the world looks in upon the very inner sanctuary of the soul. All that we are in desire and passion, in love or hate, in purpose and ambition, we reveal in our faces. They are the screen upon which our souls stand revealed and character stands out in stark, complete outline."

"So in the face of Christ, we see the character of God. It shines through in revealing glory, bringing to our understanding the whole blessed picture of infinite love."

Dr. Birney spoke of the various outstanding pictures of the birth, life and death of Jesus, each bringing some new feature of God's love into vision, and ended with the picture of Calvary.

"Without the Calvary face of Jesus" he said, "we would never have known the redeeming measure of the love of God, for without the cross all else could have been meaningless and incomplete. But when we behold the thorn-crowned, blood-stained suffering face of Jesus, framed against the background of Calvary, we see the glory of God in the measureless love that stoops at no sacrifice to win men back to Himself."

"Standing before the cross, we realize that, in some terrible way, the Saviour, is bearing our own sins in our stead, and our hearts instinctively cry out for pardon, saying, 'O God, forgive—we did not know that thou didst care so much else we would not have broken thy heart with our sinning!'"

The afternoon meeting for mothers and daughters was well attended and the large audience listened with utter attention to the evangelist's portrayal of "The Chambers of Imagery," basing his message on the vision of Ezekiel, recorded in Ezekiel 8:12. At the close several hundred women and girls stood around the altar in prayer and consecration.

Dr. Birney told how the chambers of imagery are full of mental pictures of the things experienced, through the senses of touch, taste, smell, hearing and seeing. "All the character making thoughts of our lives," he declared, "come from these mental images of experience. If they are pure then the temple is clean, if they are evil then the temple of life is corrupted and defiled."

"Even God cannot do anything with a soul until He is permitted to enter its chamber of imagery and substitute

the pictures of his own will for those of sin and worldliness. Nothing but the blood of Jesus can cleanse away the images of sin, and make our lives fit for the indwelling Spirit of Love. And every victory in sainthood lies in submitting our thoughts to the will of the Holy Spirit."

The evening audience crowded the auditorium of First Church, and there was manifested a depth of conviction not often seen so early in campaigns of this sort. At the close of the meeting practically the entire assemblage stood in response to the evangelist's challenge, pledging themselves to the campaign in prayer and service.

Again taking his text from Ezekiel Dr. Birney spoke on "The Trumpet and the Sword."

"There is no armistice," he said, "between Heaven and Hell. The Devil has never sheathed his sword and sin has never surrendered. The fight is on, and we are inevitably a part of it. We will conquer sin or sin will destroy us. There is only one sword that can fend the dripping sword of Satan, and that is the sword of the Spirit."

"Yet the average church of today would seem to believe that sin has ceased to slay and that the warfare between the powers of light and darkness is over. We see many sitting at ease in Zion even fraternizing with sin of the world, unconcerned and undisturbed. And all the while the swords of sin are slaying in their very midst, sometimes even in their own homes and families."

"The evangelist illustrated the ravages of sin by analogy to his experiences on a fighting front in France. With startling vivid portrayal he drove home to the audience the necessity of fighting sin. 'Talk about the war's casualty list,' he exclaimed, 'with its 10,000,000 dead. It becomes insignificant by comparison to the innumerable lives that have been smitten down by the sword of sin. No man's land is everywhere and the souls of young and old are pierced unto death—and who cares?'"

"The Trumpet is the word of testimony," said Dr. Birney, "a great, divine megaphone, to be heard around the world, proclaiming: 'Turn ye, turn ye, why will ye die? It is not the will of God that any man should perish, but that all should return unto Him and live!'"

It was a sermon filled with the spirit of aggressive evangelism, that stirred the audience with the desire to do something to help Christ save the world. Dr. Birney is a large man, whose well modulated voice carries his words without effort. Sunday night he declared that "so long as God shall give this body of mine strength and this heart of mine courage, I am going to fight sin! I both hate and fear sin for I have seen its vengeance. It makes no compromises and accepts nothing but absolute surrender and that means death! The only hope of the world is Jesus. The only shield is faith. The only sword is the Holy Spirit. The only courage is the love of God. Our armor is spiritual and the victory is sure!"

Monday night is set apart for officials and members, although persons not members of the church are invited. Dr. Birney's subject will be, "Folks Who Snore in Church." Mr. Stillings, former Xenian, who used to sing in Trinity choir, has been engaged to direct the singing with a large chorus choir. He will be present Monday night.

Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 Dr. Birney begins a series of afternoon addresses upon the "Holy Spirit." All of these meetings are open to the public and all members of the churches are urged to hear these spiritual messages.

Tuesday night to accommodate those who desire to attend the lecture at the High School Auditorium, the hour of the services will be moved up to 7 o'clock instead of 7:30. All ex-service men of three wars are invited to hear the address of Dr. Birney upon the subject, "Over the Top—No Man's Land."

Dr. V. F. Brown of Trinity Church and Dr. F. W. Stanton, of First Church are busy with the details of these meetings, and are well pleased with the audiences.

STORES VICTIMIZED BY CHANGE WORKER

At least two Xenia business establishments were made victims of the old "change" rag Saturday night by an unknown confidence man, who fleeced each place out of $10 and escaped.

The Famous Cheap Store and the Bake Rite Bakery were the two known victims, they reported at Police headquarters.

A young man is said to have walked into the Famous Cheap Store and made a twenty-five cent purchase from one of the clerks. He handed her a $20 bill in payment. Receiving a $10 bill, nine ones and some small change, he asked the clerk to give him ten one dollar bills for the tender.

Becoming confused, the clerk gave the man the ten ones but forgot to receive the $10 bill from the man who walked away. The mistake was not discovered until later. The same trick was worked successfully at the Bake Rite Bakery the same evening.

Further attempts were made at the Fetz Bros. Grocery and the Sayre and Hemphill Drug Store but neither was taken in.

13. King Beowulf

(Drawing: Beowulf King Costume) After many years of fighting and hardship, it came that Beowulf was made king, and a most noble ruler was he, even mightier than his uncles, Hrothgar and Hygelac. His lands prospered; his herds and his treasures grew apace.

And it happened that a certain Beowulf and fled from his disman aroused the just wrath of King pleasure. In his flight this knave chanced across a treasure mound o'er which a dragon nominally guarded. At this time the dragon was away and the knave seized a wondrous golden cup from the treasure to take to his king and beg forgiveness.

This knave did. When the dragon returned he saw the loss and determined to spread desolation for revenge. That night he soared over Beowulf's kingdom, breathing fire and destruction upon the country-side. In the morning there was great despair. And Beowulf set out to kill the dragon which terrorized his people, taking a company of thanes with him. (He meets the dragon tomorrow)

UNCLE SAM OVERCHARGES

For a long time after European currency had dropped to unheard of depths the United States postoffice department continued to sell money orders on foreign countries at the old rate of exchange. If a person went to a bank he might buy exchange for 200 francs, for instance, for $10. But if he confidently went to the postoffice for a French money order he would be sold only 50 francs for the same sum. Uncle Sam was thus put in the position of gypping his customers.

Finally enough red tape was unwound to get the department up to date, and after a prolonged delay it began to sell foreign money orders at the current rate of exchange and so no longer cheated the purchasers.

Now the department has announced that it is to return to the old practice in money orders for British currency. The department is charging $4.87 for a pound, whereas the pound is worth only $4.78. What a cry would go up if a bank should overcharge its customers that way!

But apparently effective, businesslike methods are not to be expected of Uncle Sam.—Kansas City Star.

BARS THE "SOB SISTERS"

The sob sister and her crying brother in California may be compared with the lonesome person who was all dressed up and had no place to go. They are all teared up and have no place to cry. That is Governor Richardson says they have no place for their lachrymose demonstrations in so far as he is concerned, and that should be sufficient. If they have tears they need not bother about shedding them in the presence of the executive, for it will do neither them nor the clients any good.

In reviewing his acts of executive clemency the governor declares he has not been influenced by the sobbing or crying of professional sentimentalists. He has endeavored to handle every case presented on its merits alone, thus placing the humblest prisoner without friends on a basis of equality with the one able to surround himself with a band of tearful pleaders.

The attitude of the governor is commendable. The sob sister and her wet-eyed brother have doubtless worked on the sympathies of the public and created false sentiment that has kept many crooks and criminals from receiving their just punishment. Justice can handle her own affairs without their interference, and it is well that the governor of California should let them know it. —San Francisco Chronicle.

ECLIPSE

The phenomenon of the eclipse of the Sun by the Moon, was not near so important to us as the fact that scientists, recording data on the event, timed the eclipse accurately to show it was several seconds late.

With the Sun and Moon both occupying orbits in the vast spaces, the laws of Nature account for the fact that on occasion one of the heavenly bodies may find itself between the Earth and the other.

The fact that science not only predicted the coming eclipse, but timed it accurately for the benefit of the millions of watchers over the country and then were disappointed because the shadow did not travel quite as fast as expected, is an interesting insight into the accomplishments of astronomy.

Men versed in astral laws were able to tell to the minute what time the eclipse would be visible in each part of the country and then were disappointed because their computation varied by a few seconds.

The information they obtained during their observations, is expected to be highly important from a scientific standpoint.

THE FATHER OF THE MAN

I sat me down for seeing things exactly as they are,
For questioning and wondering the goals which lie afar,
When something whispered low to me
"So far as you're concerned
You've reached your highest peak of life
and have your fortune earned;
Your habits now are fixed and fast,
for you are forty-three,
The sort of man you are today is all
you'll ever be!"

"Have I no chance for better things?"
I questioned him who spoke
"If this is all I'll ever be, then life is but a joke."
"You've had your fun and won your game," the whispered voice replied,
"And but one chance is left to you—
that youngster at your side!
'Tis he to be a better man, a braver
man than you,
Your future now is in his hands and
all that he shall do."
"You're old and settled in your ways,
but he is young and fair,
And you must teach him what is good
and what he must beware;
Your life will very little change in
twenty years or more,
But he will change into a man. So
be a good father,
In his future glory lies,
Be careful what you do,
Your boy must be in many ways a better man than you."

one is forty-three
He's just about the sort of man that
he will ever be;
And I shall stay the way I am, my
habits fixed and fast,
But, oh, that little lad of mine may
come to fame at last!"
"That's it," the whispering voice replied, "so do the best you can be Man's greatest glory is to be the father of a man!"

Pot Roast: Buy two pounds of beef from the round. Dredge it with one tablespoon of flour and then sear it till brown in two tablespoons of drippings and two tablespoons of butter mixed.

(Turn it over during this searing.)

Now place the meat in a deep pot with one pint of hot water, one diced carrot, two large peeled and chopped onions and one diced turnip.

Put on the pot, cover and let the water simmer for about four hours or till the meat is tender. (As this small amount of water boils away, a little more may be added. But a pot roast needs no more than a pint of liquor in the bottom of the kettle.) The steam inside the tightly-closed kettle cooks the meat. When cooked remove meat and thicken the pot liquor with four tablespoons of flour mixed with a very little cold water. Serve the beef on a platter with this hot gravy poured over it.

Fish Souffle: Any kind of cold cooked fish may be used in making this. I assume that there will be about three-fourths of flaked cod or cod left over from Friday's dinner to be used in this dish on Saturday night (in place of a meat dish). Put one-half cup of stale bread crumbs into a saucepan with two-thirds of a cup of sweet milk and let simmer for five minutes; add the three-quarters of a cup of fish and mix well.

A Stubborn Cough

Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest sore-ness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money.

Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne,

Ind.

To Make Quick Nut Bread: Use the

above recipe but substitute one cupful of chopped English walnuts for the cupful of raisins.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty"—It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweet-heart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

MOVE

AMERICA AT DANGER FROM THREE ARMIES. SAYS REV. TILFORD

"America is threatened by three armies," the Rev. Wm. H. Telford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, told his congregation Sunday in a special sermon delivered on the day the church celebrated the first anniversary of its drive for funds to remodel the edifice and also on the day Miss Stella Bishop organist, gave her farewell program.

The sermon was based on a moral code for children, taken from Colliers Weekly of January 17, and compiled from information furnished by leaders of all creeds.

"These three armies," said the minister, "are—Five and one half million illiterates above nine years of age; fifty million people in the United States, who are in no church, Roman Catholic, Jewish or Protestant; and twenty-seven million Protestant children under 25 who are not in any Sunday school and one million, fifty-two thousand, eight hundred and eighty of this last group are in Ohio."

"These three armies are helped by three—forces first, propaganda from the outside, which seeks to destroy the home church and school. The second is lack of knowledge of the type of citizenship which can stabilize the democracy. Third, Spiritual Illiteracy which becomes the seed plot for immorality, crime, social unrest and anarchy. It is out of the company of spiritual illiterates that all of our delinquency among youth comes. We have been riding on the crest of the wave of moral stability which came from the stern days of our colonial and pioneering ancestry. It is distressing—the falling down in small matters which is noticed in the outcroppings of terrible crime."

"What is the present state of morality? What percentage of folks in Xenia deal honestly and will return a nickel over change to the merchant? What percentage of young people commit our crime today—75 per cent. under 25 years. These boys and girls who get newspaper publicity of crime come out of the ordinary homes such as in Xenia, where the fundamental teachings of morality are neglected. Who is to blame? Some say the schools. We ought to stop blaming everything on the teacher. Some say the church. If the church is not doing everything it should for the children for the time it has with them—about twenty minutes a week—then blame the church. You can not teach morality in twenty minutes to a squirming class of boys. Some blame the home and the parents. The grand jurors of Goshen, Ind., and Toledo and Judge Killets of Toledo did.

Do not blame any body in particular. Blame the community. Some one has said 'It is the home, the church, the school, the government, the community as an entity, all delinquent—these are the real delinquents. They condition life for the child. They control his attitudes. They give him his thought material. They nourish or check growth. They top or repress spiritual resources. They make or break life. There is not one boy or girl goes wrong in Xenia, but that the entire community should shoulder some of the blame. Do not blame all the parents all the time. So long as there is one unsaved person in Xenia the good home is not safe. For just last week we heard of a man who had been peddling obscene literature throughout the town to children. There is nothing too severe for any one, who will come into your home and indiscreetly put therein these things which will undermine the moral training of the children. Such a moral pervert should be put away where he would harm no one. Moral status is bad.

"Moral Education is the solution. Schools should put more time in on moral education. W. E. Cox late of this city, often said—the first principle and paramount purpose of education is to develop character. We agree with Prof. Cox. It ought to be English plus character that a teacher promulgates. No! It should be character through English. Moral education, yes—but that is the business of the church and preachers. Yes but who has the time of the child? School some—but the home the most."

The Rev. Mr. Telford took up the matter of a week day instruction in religion and morals and finally took up the Moral Code developed by Colliers Weekly recently.

MANY INEQUALITIES IN VALUATIONS IN COUNTY SAYS AUDITOR

Findings regarding real estate valuations in Greene County have been submitted to the County Commissioners by County Auditor R. O. Wead and a hearing of the findings set for February 4th.

An appraisal of property in Greene County has not been made since 1910, according to Auditor Wead, but it is customary by law to submit reports on the situation every year. Three courses of action are left to the Board of County Commissioners. The findings may either be acted upon, modified or set aside. In the latter case, no appraisal of property is made, unless other action is taken. Contents of the report of findings in Greene County are as follows: "The assessed valuation on real property in the rural districts, when taken as a total, is not far below its true value in money. However, there are many inequalities existing in valuations within all of the taxing districts in the county."

"The assessed valuation on the real property within the municipalities of the county is not its true value in money. In considering the above report, I would respectfully call your attention to the likelihood of the enactment of new tax laws, or the modification of those now on the statute books, by the general assembly which is now in session."

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but important lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

FIGHTING MONEY

"A fighting dollar" is usually a poor investment dollar.

One of the big wrecks in the oil business was financed largely on an appeal for fighting money. The company was going to lick Standard Oil. Promoters posed as champions of the "down-trodden" masses and the "down-trodden" gave up hundreds of thousands of dollars. The company failed and lost a vast sum for the "down-trodden."

Mixing fighting money and investing, except in co-operation with your government in time of war, is one of the surest ways to incur loss. There are only four essentials in a sound investment and they do not include fighting. They are Safety, Honesty, Rate and Regularity of Interest Payments, and Marketability of the security. Successful, experienced, old investors are still buying firm stock to put as legacies for their children, while that champion company of the "down-trodden" lies buried in the losses it inflicted on thousands of poor men and women.

MAGNATE IS DEAD

London, Jan. 26-Lord Claude Hamilton, one of the world's best known railway experts, is dead at the age of 82. He remained actively engaged in railway work until he was 79 years old.

THE WORST IS YET TO COME

MICHAEL BRESNAHAN IS CALLED BY DEATH SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Michael Bresnahan, 54, well known Xenian, died at his home at the Pennsylvania Depot Hotel, Saturday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. He had been alling more than a year and his condition had been serious for the past three months. Death was the result of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Bresnahan was born in Xenia, April 23, 1871, and spent all of his life in Xenia. He was an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad for twenty-one years and was connected with the company for several years previous to that time.

He was the son of the late Michael and Joanna Bresnahan. His marriage to Miss Margaret Day took place July 16, 1920, who survives him.

COMPENSATION OF SOLDIERS IS NOT ASSIGNABLE, SAID

A warning to ex-service men against negotiating loans and giving their national adjusted compensation certificates as collateral was issued Saturday from the American Legion headquarters in Columbus.

State Headquarters has been the recipient of numerous inquiries of American Legion ex-service men who have received their government certificates as to where they can secure immediate loans on their compensation papers.

Provisions of the Adjusted Compensation act strictly declare that this practice is not authorized. The act reads: "No right to payment under the provisions of this title shall be assignable or serve as security for any loan. Any assignment or loan made in violation of the provisions of this section shall be held void. The director shall not make any payments under this title to any person other than the dependent or such representative of the dependent as the director shall by regulation prescribe."

Authorization is granted to banks and trust companies incorporated, only after the expiration of two years after the date of the certificate, to loan a veteran upon his promissory note, made secure by his adjusted compensation certificate, any amount not to exceed 90 per cent of the service value of the certificate on the final day of the certificate year.

IDENTIFY YEGGS

Logan, Jan. 26.—Officials here reported that a number of local residents "almost completely" identified one of the two men who blew a safe here as a member of the gang believed to have murdered patrolman Harrison Body at Marietta. Photos of the men said to have been involved in the Marietta murder have been sent to the Marietta police department.

RESINOL

WEAK FOLK NOW FAIRLY TINGLE WITH VITALITY

Run down Folk Feel Years Younger; New Feeding Process That Builds Rich Blood

"Blessing in disguise," is what physicians are calling the newly discovered condition among our school children, 40% of whom it was shown suffer from under-nourishment. For out of this evil has come a great good.

Cod liver oil, always highly regarded by medical men, has proved its worth again. Used in a new, easy-to-take form called CocoCod, it is not only assisting youngsters back to normal health, but causing weak men and women to fairly tingle with vitality and the joy of living.

It is truly amazing, even in old folk, how this pure Norwegian cod liver oil quickens the eliminative organs, feeds worn nerves and enriches the blood. But CocoCod does not stop there. It supplies to the system the elements which our food lacks, creating new energy and nerve force that causes run down men and women to look, feel and act years younger.

Underfed, nervous, weak blood simply won't permit you to enjoy life as you should; but, thanks to CocoCod, no one need permit this condition to continue. Teachers, doctors and other thinking people are recommending this new, easy-to-take form of cod liver oil. Mothers whose kiddies refuse ordinary cod liver oil find no trouble feeding them CocoCod with its rich cocoa taste.

Local druggists, as well as doctors and teachers, have been fully informed concerning its value. However, it is well to be sure you're getting the genuine CocoCod, the new easy-to-take cod liver oil preparation.—Ad.

BRINGING UP FATHER

By GEORGE McMANUS

The Husband Tamer

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Luxury of Love" etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with

GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier to whom her husband has introduced her, who falls in love with her, and whom she cannot ignore because of the help which he can give her sister's husband.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLIV—A CHANCE TO HELP

PATRICIA'S first impulse when she reached New York was to take a taxi up to her own apartment, fling herself into Andrew's arms, and tell him how wrong

all his suspicions were. Surely she could make him believe her. But then she remembered with a sigh—Andrew had sublet the apartment and gone to live at his club. She had lost her home as well as her husband!

So she went to a quiet little hotel on Park Avenue, an ultra-conservative residence of which Linda Boyce had once remarked that no one but blackmailers and divorcees could afford to live there. Her heart was heavy, but she managed a brave show of gaiety, and when she met Linda a few days later in the elevator of a smart little dress shop they both patronized, she managed to appear glad to see her.

"Patricia Cleve!" she exclaimed in surprise. "Where have you dropped from? Let's call this shopping orgy to a halt right this minute and go over to the Ritz where we can talk. I've a thousand and one things to ask you."

But adroit as her questioning was, she learned less from Patricia than that wily person learned from her. Patricia, torn between a desire to confide everything to her and trust to luck that she would go back and tell Andrew and a longing to remain as aloof as possible from everyone connected with the old life that she was trying to forget, managed to be cordial but vague.

"I'll never forget Andrew on the boat going over to England," Linda told her carelessly. "He was simply out of his mind at the prospect of landing a client over there whose business would end all of your worries. He thought you could get a house out in the country somewhere and—"

"That wasn't the idea I got at all," Linda assured her. "He was talking of getting you away from all that sort of thing—giving you the sort of home you'd always wanted."

Dick and I came right back, so I didn't see Andrew again until a few days ago, and when I asked him if you were still out at your sister's he hardly answered me. He was so gruff I decided that you had left him. And then Dick told me you had. But where are you, and what are you going to do?"

"I don't know," Patricia answered simply. "I'm waiting to hear from Andy. I'll not go back to being a husband tamer, though, I can assure you of that. I have some other plans I'll tell you about later."

It was the fashion of their crowd to talk of the most serious things lightly, and Pat found herself slipping into it easily; but later, when she returned to her hotel and looked for a note from Andy in response to hers begging him to come and talk everything over with her, she found only a curt letter telling her to see his lawyers. "I cannot see any advantage in our discussing what has happened as you suggest."

Patricia met Linda a few days later.

It seems all too plain to me. My lawyers will make everything easy for you; more than that you cannot ask."

Why was he so unrelenting, so hard? Her thoughts were all of him as she idly tore open another letter in her hand. It was from Clayton Gillespie and outlined the first work that he wanted her to do. She glanced quickly over it glad of something to take her mind from brooding over Andrew and the cruel misunderstanding that was separating them.

There were meetings of this and meetings of that—there seemed to be no end of welfare organizations in the world that Clayton Gillespie was interested in. How her old crowd would laugh at the thought of her being engaged in such work! She could almost hear Linda explaining that a lady philanthropist was another word for a frump and a social failure.

But as she studied his letter she became more and more interested in it. Here were vital things for her to do. At last she might be of some use in the world beside being the entertainment division of her husband's business.
